ENGLISH CORNER TALK

Co-organized by Non-local Student Support Group, Division of Arts and Languages CIE HKBU, and Africa Center Hong Kong

ENVIRONMENTALISM IN AFRICA

In this session, we will look at environmentalism in different African contexts and discuss how care for nature looks like across the continent. This will happen through exploration of different forms of environmentalism linked to culture, religion and other aspects of society. Influential factors on the shaping of landscape such as the effects of colonialism will also be brought into the discussion. Be ready to learn and share about environmentalism in Africa and beyond.

Tsitsi Mareika Chirikure

AFRICAN LITERATURE BOOK CLUB CHAIR,
AFRICA CENTER HONG KONG

Tsitsi Mareika Chirikure dedicates much of her time into the exploration of African literatures as avenues for change & action for African people. In this work she sees literatures as powerful tools to fight against all forms of oppression. She shares her work through social media page African literatures & through book club meetings held at the Africa Center. In addition, Tsitsi Mareika is a co-founder of a Pan-Afrikan collective largely based in Berlin, Isusu Ffena.
