HARMONY

I am originally from D.R Congo, now based in Hong Kong and studying Psychology at Adventist College. I am a model, founder of HARMONY and co-founder of Learning Together and an activist for female, ethnic minorities and refugees' right in Hong Kong. My plan for the future is that I hope in to share an appreciation of diversity in a city of Hong Kong.

KADEJA

Hi! My name is Khadeeja Khan, I was born in Pakistan, came to Hong Kong when i was 2 and moved to England when I was 4. I have recently come back to Hong Kong 4 years ago to pursue a degree in Psychology in which I am looking to graduate in 2020 from Andrews University USA (affiliated course) I am a strong believer of feminism and am currently working on a project which aims to raise an understanding of the mental health within ethnic minorities as well as providing equality within their own culture. In the future I aim to be working towards providing an equal space for the growth of culture in Hong Kong as well as providing mental health assistance to the Ethnic Minority community living here.

INNOCENT

Zimbabwean by birth, now based in Hong Kong completing studies in anthropology at The Chinese University of Hong Kong. A lad activist for gender and human rights. Co-founder of The Wandering Voice & The Africa Center Hong Kong, and now activists for migrant and refugee rights in Hong Kong, Macau and Japan. In addition, started a career as a financier at Goldman Sachs and recently moved to private equity where I see and use finance as a means to achieve social justice.
