

Change and Leadership

- International and Global Perspective

ALL HKBU
students are welcome

As the future of work evolves rapidly, and companies are using new ways of working, leaders are exposed to continuous and various changes in their day-to-day operations. These challenges are especially pronounced to a leader in an international or global context. The contents will provide the cross-cultural leadership and changes experiences and learning opportunities with the students about the important qualities to be remarkable leaders.
